

SPRING 2017 RUSSIAN LANGUAGE COURSES

SUNY-wide Distance-Learning Opportunity RUS 213: Intermediate Russian for Students of Russian-Speaking Background "Heritage Russian"

Instructor: Anna Geisherik

Time: TuTh 5:30pm - 6:50pm

Prerequisite: Native-speaking proficiency in Russian
Credits: 3

A course intended for "Heritage speakers" of Russian - students who already speak Russian and who need training in writing, reading, and grammar. This course is for students who speak some basic Russian at home but who have not received any formal education in Russian and who may not know how to write, and for those who have very basic reading skills but no formal knowledge of Russian grammar.

Distance Learning students will*:

- participate synchronously through video conference from ANY campus
- earn 3 credits through the SUNY cross-registration system
- submit required materials through Blackboard

*Technical specifications provided upon request. Student participation is subject to the access of appropriate technology and may be on a "first come, first served" basis.

RUS 312: Russian Conversation and Composition

Instructor: Anna Geisherik

Time: TuTh 7:00pm - 8:20pm

Prerequisite: RUS 212 or 213; permission of instructor required for students of Russian-speaking background

Credits: 3

DEC: S3 / SBC: HFA+, LANG

A course in the active use of spoken and written Russian. Particular emphasis is placed on contemporary idiom.

Want more information? Contact Anna Geisherik at anna.geisherik@stonybrook.edu!